BIOGRAPHY

I am the co-owner and head sommelier of Bistro YOSHIMICHI. It is a cozy (only 14 seats), hidden gem French restaurant in central Tokyo. I do everything myself, from wine selection, purchasing, inventory management to serving. Prior to my career in the wine and hospitality industry, I was mainly in charge of accounting for IPO preparation work in the IT industry. This experience has given me a unique perspective as a sommelier.

I am currently preparing for my Master
Sommelier exam. As part of my preparation,
I have been organizing many blind tastings under the guidance of Master Sommeliers. I also connect international visitors who are interested in Japan for business or pleasure with appropriate places and people in Japan. If you are coming to Japan, please do not hesitate to contact me!

Kenneth Hyeonguk Kim, chief sommelier at Smith and Wollensky Korea. Winner of Korean Sommelier Competition 2021.

Smith & Wollensky has wine list that is most specialized and diverse selection of American wines in the country but also inspired by some of the finest American wine lists in the world. With approximately 300 types of American wines, including over 100 cult wines sought after by enthusiasts globally, as well as a selection of over 600 wines that features more than 100 types of Champagne and Grand Cru wines, this list is a source of pride for Smith & Wollensky.

I decided to work at Smith and Wollensky and create this American culture-inspired wine list based on my road trip from LA to San Francisco. I visited all the AVAs along the West Coast, experiencing the deep sea fog of Santa Barbara, the stunning scenery of the Cascade Mountains, and the beautiful shorelines and sunsets of Malibu.

My purpose in becoming a Brand Ambassador for California wine is to share my journey and emotions about California wine with Korean customers. I want to highlight not only Napa and the big brands but also the small and intriguing appellations that showcase their unique terroirs and how California wine is evolving and developing.

After graduating from university, I joined Andaz Tokyo in 2022.

In 2023, I got a certification of Japan Sommelier Association.

In order to become a professional sommelier active in the world, I'm willing to challenge myself on various examinations and qualifications.

In 2024, I have participated in the under 27 competition organized by the Japan Sommelier Association. I won the "Ruinart Sommelier Challenge" organized by Champagne Maison Ruinart and plan to train in France.

In 2025, I qualified for the Napa Valley Vintners and competed in the final judging of ambassadors.

I will be challenging the ASI diploma exam and so on.

This boot camp is my first step to getting more knowledge for becoming a professional sommelier.

I have also studied hard by taking the Napa Valley Vintners examination, and I would like to use that experience to help me on this boot camp.

Also, as a person who can be active in the world, I think it is a valuable opportunity to see and communication with other sommeliers from other Asia countries. Also, to inspire each other and create connections.
